

PAYPOINT PLC: SLAVERY AND HUMAN TRAFFICKING STATEMENT

Introduction from the Chief Executive

Slavery, including modern slavery, is a crime and a violation of fundamental human rights. At PayPoint, we have a zero-tolerance approach to slavery and we are committed to acting ethically and with integrity in all our business dealings and relationships. We are also committed to implementing and enforcing effective systems and controls in order to: ensure that slavery is not taking place anywhere in our own business; and encourage partners in our supply chains to adhere to our standards on modern slavery and human trafficking.

Our policies on slavery and human trafficking

Our policies reflect our commitment to acting ethically and with integrity in all our business relationships and to ensuring that there is no modern slavery or human trafficking in our supply chains or in any part of our business. Our code of conduct on modern slavery, which is available to our suppliers, sets out what is required of a PayPoint supplier in respect of addressing and eliminating forced labour pursuant to the Modern Slavery Act 2015 (the Act).

Our suppliers are expected to comply with our code of conduct on modern slavery or are required to have policies and procedures in place which ensure the prevention of the abuses and exploitive behaviours associated with modern slavery and human trafficking.

Due diligence processes for slavery and human trafficking

As part of our initiative to identify and mitigate risk:

Our supplier selection policy and process in appointing new suppliers mandates that new suppliers are contractually required to adhere to our code of conduct on modern slavery or provide evidence of the anti-slavery and human trafficking policies and processes which they have in place.

All contracts and agreements (including the terms and conditions attached to our purchase orders) entered into with new suppliers include provisions obliging compliance with applicable law (including the Modern Slavery Act). Non-compliance with this clause would be considered by us as a material breach of the contract or agreement, in the event of which appropriate action would be taken including termination of said contract or agreement.

We use only specific reputable employment agencies to source labour, and we always verify the practices of any new agency used before accepting workers from that agency.

We will review all instances of non-compliance of which we become aware, on a case-by-case basis and will implement appropriate remedial action.

Supplier adherence to our values

We have zero tolerance to slavery and human trafficking, and we expect all those in our supply chain and contractors to comply with our values.

The Risk & Compliance team within PayPoint is responsible for monitoring compliance. Suppliers are encouraged to report any suspected instances of non-compliance with our code of conduct on modern slavery or with the Act.

Training

We provide annual training to all our employees via our PayPoint Learning Zone, which is tailored to ensure an appropriate level of understanding of the risks of modern slavery and human trafficking in our supply chains and our business.

Our effectiveness in combating slavery and human trafficking

Where permitted under our supplier contracts and agreements, we are able to carry out ad hoc supply chain audits by requesting for evidence of policies and processes in order to verify compliance with our requirements and expectations on modern slavery and human trafficking. Instances of non-compliance which become apparent following an audit of a supplier, will be assessed on a case-by-case basis and remedial action will be taken accordingly. We will only trade with those who comply with our expectations or those who are taking verifiable steps towards compliance.

Through our whistleblowing processes, all employees are encouraged to report any concerns related to the direct activities, or the supply chains of, PayPoint. This includes any circumstances that may give rise to an enhanced risk of slavery or human trafficking.

This statement is made pursuant to section 54(1) of the Modern Slavery Act 2015 and constitutes our slavery and human trafficking statement for the financial year ended 31 March 2018.
